Family SEND Workshop at Autograph

with artists Amy Leung
and Ophir Yaron

Today we are going to Autograph for an art workshop.

Autograph is a gallery. A gallery is a place where art hangs on walls for everyone to see.

Autograph is located in East London. The building looks like this.

The outside of the building will have the word Autograph on it.

When I arrive, I will go through a large glass automatic door.

I'll then go into the reception area, which looks like this.

The workshop will take place in the Education Studio which is on the ground floor of the building.

I will meet Amy, Ophir, Immanuel, Livvy and Anya, who can show me around the Gallery and help me at the art workshop.

Here are pictures of them:

In the art workshop I can create things with my family.

There will be lots of materials and objects around the room,
including ear defenders, beanbags and sensory toys.

I can join in with whatever I feel like doing.

The adult/s with me can join in too.

There will also be other adults and children taking part in the art workshop.

I am allowed to play and explore in the art workshop.

There will be plenty of time to try different things.

When the workshop is finished, I will be given a smiley face sticker.

With my adult/s I will go out through the reception and exit the gallery from the same door we came in.

I will make my way home.
